Magic Kingdom Cheat Sheet

Rope Drop: Magic Kingdom opens its ticketing gates 75 minutes before official Park open. Guests are held just inside the entrance in the courtyard in front of the train station. The opening show featuring Mickey and the gang arriving via steam train, begins 15 to 20 minutes prior to Park open and lasts about six minutes. The best viewing area is front and center, but this puts you at a disadvantage entering the Park as everyone off to the sides will enter before you. To minimize morning waits, make your way to the far left or right of the courtyard in front of one of the entrances. At the conclusion of the show, the Park is opened and Cast Members walk guests slowly up Main Street and through the Castle. Break off from this group as early as possible. If you're headed to Adventureland or Frontierland, make a left after passing Casey's Corner. If you're headed to Tomorrowland, take a right after passing Plaza Ice Cream Parlor. If you're headed to Mine Train, veer right of Cinderella Castle toward Mad Tea Party and take a left at Mad Tea Party toward the Mine Train's entrance across from Winnie the Pooh.

General Touring Philosophy: With 60+ attractions, Magic Kingdom is best toured over two or more days. The best plans compartmentalize the Park by visiting two or three Lands each day. Visit the character and attraction priorities in one Land before moving on to the next. Have lunch and then head back to the same Lands visiting the "anytime attractions." This minimizes both waiting and walking. One-day touring will require more walking. You can still accomplish a lot by touring intelligently, but some attractions will need to be skipped.

Characters: Unlike the other three Parks, there are characters that need to be prioritized ahead of the priority attractions. If you'd like to visit Anna/Elsa, Merida, or Cinderella/Rapunzel, you need to visit first thing in the morning, in the last hour they're scheduled to appear, or use FastPass+ to avoid 30 to 75+ minute waits.

FastPass+ Priority:

1. Anna and Elsa at Princess Fairytale Hall
2. Seven Dwarfs Mine Train
3. Peter Pan's Flight
4. Main Street Electrical Parade (Prioritize first/only parade only. Second parade on the same night sees light crowds)

6. Splash Mountain (when high temperatures are 80+ degrees)
7. Cinderella and Rapunzel at Princess Fairytale Hall
8. Enchanted Tales with Belle
9. Big Thunder Mountain Railroad
10. Ariel at Ariel's Grotto
11. Buzz Lightyear's Space Ranger Spin
12. Tomorrowland Speedway

20. Tinker Bell at Town Square Theater
21. Disney Festival of Fantasy Parade

25. Under the Sea Journey of the Little Mermaid

There are far more FastPass+ opportunities at Magic Kingdom than any of the other theme parks, making the decision on which to pick difficult. Consider picking three high priority attractions in a Land that you don't plan to visit until the afternoon or evening. For example, if you plan to start your day with Aladdin's Magical Carpets, Jungle Cruise, Big Thunder Mountain, and Splash Mountain, then you may want to use FastPass+ in the afternoon in Fantasyland at Enchanted Tales with Belle, Anna/Elsa, and the Mine Train or in Tomorrowland at Space Mountain, Tomorrowland Speedway, and Buzz Lightyear.

23. Visit Fantasyland FP+ kiosk and select another FastPass+ experience
24. Have dinner: Pinocchio Village Haus is closest. Be Our Guest Restaurant would be perfect if you've snagged reservations. Cosmic Ray's is relatively close.

Afternoon and Evening: Your evening depends greatly on when Magic Kingdom closes, when Wishes is scheduled, and ultimately how long you want to stay. Visit attractions marked anytime on the map until about 30 minutes before Wishes then move to Main Street to see the show. Return to Liberty Square or Frontierland for the Electrical Parade, keeping in mind the second Parade (when offered) is far less crowded. Return to the priority attractions, particularly in Fantasyland, in the final hour

Late Arrival and Nighttime Crowds: Crowds only diminish most nights after 9pm as families invariably leave early with small children. The later it gets, the lower wait times will be, particularly if close is 11pm or later. Use FastPass+ when you arrive when wait times are longest. Visit the green anytime attractions until two to three hours before close. Then move on to the yellow attractions like Buzz Lightyear and Big Thunder Mountain and finish the night with the highest priority attractions like Peter Pan's Flight, Mine Train, and Space Mountain.

Main Street Electrical Parade: The Electrical Parade is scheduled on between three and seven nights per week, usually between 7pm and 11pm. It begins on Main Street and exits to the left of Splash Mountain. The best viewing locations are near Pecos Bill and outside Hall of Presidents in Liberty Square. Two Parades are often scheduled with the second beginning two hours after the first. If this is the case, see the later Parade as it will be far less crowded. Arrive 20 to 30 minutes early if there's one Parade or 10 to 15 minutes early for the second Parade. The FastPass+ viewing location is in The Hub in front of the Castle. It's a great location and you won't need to be as concerned with people arriving late and pushing their way in front of you.

Celebrate the Magic and Wishes: The Castle Projection Show usually begins 15 minutes before Wishes. Position yourself on Main Street just in front of Casey's Corner for the best view of the show, which is almost immediately followed by Wishes Fireworks. Arrive 30 minutes before Wishes is scheduled to start. The Wishes FastPass+ viewing area is in the Rose Garden in front of the Castle on the right. It's a decent spot, but trees block the area, it's off-center, and not entirely ideal.

Exit: As usual, you can enter the queue for any operating attraction up until the official close. Consider getting in line for Mine Train, Peter Pan's Flight, or another attraction with a few minutes until close. Main Street stores will remain open for about an hour after Park close. Linger a bit while others exit in front of you. The Express Monorail is the fastest way to the Transportation and Ticket Center (parking lot) unless the line is significantly backed up. The ferry is often a more comfortable ride with more room to spread out, particularly up the stairs on the second level
